 Runaway children who meet up with monsters. A giant talking bug. A secret world of mouse-people. The stories of Franz Kafka are wondrous and nightmarish, miraculous and scary. In My First Kafka, storyteller Mattheue Roth and artist Rohan Daniel Eason adapt three Kafka stories into startling, creepy, fun stories for all ages. With My First Kafka, the master storyteller takes his rightful place alongside Maurice Sendak, Edward Gorey, and Lemony Snicket as a literary giant for all ages.

 "I Dream in Dari" is about a young girl visiting her grandmother. She calls her grandma, 'Maman.' Her grandmother is strong, courageous, and beautiful. Her grandmother is from Afghanistan. Follow the young girl on her adventure to discover the beautiful pieces of Afghan culture. Explore the halal food, traditional dresses, and learn a few words in Dari along the way. Based on a true story about a woman who came to the United States as a refugee and now shares her culture with her grandchildren. Details about the real-life Maman are included at the end of the book with some facts about Afghan refugees in the United States. "I Dream in Dari" is a great way to bring multicultural literature into any classroom or home library. Introduce children to the unique, diverse people in our world. Be sure to check out other titles from the author, Amber Rizaei. The author's other titles include "123 Dari" where you can learn to count in the native Afghan language too.

Inspired by the art of the Qajar Era, "Yalda Night" introduces children to one of the most beloved Iranian celebrations of the year. It is winter, and six-year-old Soraya is sad because it is too cold and dark to play outside. Everything changes when she discovers that the family traditions of gathering together on the longest and darkest night of the year can give her the warmth and love she needs to get through the winter. In anticipation of spring, Soraya snacks on nuts and sweets, plays with her cousin, and dances to her Dad's music.
