Korangy and Sharifian's groundbreaking book offers the first in-depth study into cultural linguistics for the Persian language. The book highlights a multitude of angles through which the intricacies of Persian and its many dialects and accents, wherever spoken, can be examined. Linguistics with cultural studies as its backdrop is not a new phenomenon, however with this text we are afforded an insight into the complex relationship that exists between human cognizance, and human expression in this ancient civilization. This study helps develop an innovative understanding of history, intent and meaning as understood by a culture and by a people, in this case the Persian-Speaking folk of Iran. The chapters are insightful resources for analyzing and augmenting our knowledge of linguistics under the rubric of Persian Culture but also for proposing and foregrounding new ideas in this field of study. This book will be of interest to researchers in linguistics, linguistic anthropology and psychology as well as scholars interested in Persian and Iranian studies.
