Administrative reforms are long overdue in India as the present administrative system is obsolete and continuing as a legacy from British Raj. It is not coping with the ever-changing needs and aspirations of the ever-growing population of the country.

Administrative set-up should be redesigned to work more efficiently and to bring transparency, accountability, efficacy and high-speed response into governance to meet the aspirations of the people before their anger turns into revolt against the elected governments. Zero corruption government should be the bedrock of an advanced democracy. We need to restructure and reboot the present administrative format into a more responsive entity to give quality services and equal opportunities to all citizens, instantly on demand at a single platform. These administrative reforms are aimed at removing corruption, arrogance and lethargy at all levels and in all forms

RAF Little Rissington

In the three decades between 1946 and 1976, the Central Flying School which was based at Little Rissington, produced over 6000 fledgling Qualified Flying Instructors and continually endeavoured to monitor and improve the wider Royal Air Force's standards of flying, based on its sound, proven instructional methods and a wealth of tradition extending back to Upavon in 1912. With the cessation of hostilities in 1945, the station's role took on a new dimension with the arrival of the Central Flying School (CFS) from RAF Upavon in the following year. The main function of CFS was to fulfil RAF requirements and assist some Commonwealth air force requirements for flying instructors. RAF Little Rissington became CFS's important focal base for the next thirty years. The book covers the 1946 to 1976 period and has been drawn from from the records at the National Archives, the RAF Museum, the Central Flying School Archive, and from published sources. Anecdotes and recollections from over 100 service and civilian personnel, ranging from Air Marshals to AC2s, who were once based at Little Rissington bring these unfolding years to life.
