The act of coloring can help to improve motor skills in young children and prepare them to school. The actions, motions and precise grip involved in coloring can help in the development of the muscles of the fingers, hands and wrist. Fine motor skill development can help children write more skillfully as well as manipulate small objects. They can then build on these skills to become better typists and more adept in sports and other activities. Coloring can stoke the imagination and inspire kids to brainstorm and learn to think of new ideas on their own naturally. The children will be relaxed and concentrate on the task. Coloring with beautiful colors makes children feel happy, lively, continue to enjoy and concentrate on the body. Coloring is another option for children who do not have to rush. Great for gifts for practicing and relaxation.

Determined to bring utilities and small-building construction to rural areas, William R. Carter joined with Dick Farrar and John Williams to form the CFW Construction Company in Fayetteville, Tennessee, 1952. Named for the partners, CFW expanded into building plants, roads, tunnels, bridges, and more. Within forty years the company grew to five offices, 14 subsidiaries, a thousand pieces of equipment, and a proud workforce of more than 1,500 across a dozen states. Then came the scandals. By the end of the 20thcentury, CFW was gone, and the lives of everybody had changed. Dick Farrar's son was there for the best and the worst. Now he's written the definitive history, not just about a company, but a region and its people. With nearly a hundred restored photos, most in color, Farrar, Jr., tells the true story, naming names and documenting the details. The Rise and Fall of a Construction Giantis a keepsake, a historical record, the chronicle of an era, a compelling story told by the man at its center in the end.

 'Funny, touching and visually stunning, this really is a book to treasure.' Daily Mail A GIANT story of belonging and friendship from David Litchfield, author of the Waterstones Illustrated Book Prize 2016 winner The Bear and the Piano. "He has hands the size of tables," Grandad said, "legs as long as drainpipes and feet as big as rowing boats. Do you know who I mean?" "Yes," sighed Billy. "The Secret Giant. But he's not real!" Billy doesn't believe his Grandad when he tells him there's a giant living in his town, doing good deeds for everyone. He knows that a giant is too big to keep himself hidden. And why would he WANT to keep himself a secret? But as time goes on, Billy learns that some secrets are too BIG to stay secret for long... This delightful heartfelt story of belonging and friendship teaches the importance of tolerance and acceptance to young children.

A Faith Builder for Children By: Katherine W. Fisher A Faith Builder for Children is interactive. There are exercises, tests, discussion starters, and opportunities for creative writing. There is also a section on proper manners. The author prays that everyone who reads this book will be blessed. "If the Lord had not been on our side, they would have swallowed us up [destroyed]." That statement was made by the Israelites in Psalm 124:1-3. The statement is relevant to Katherine W. Fisher's life. Fisher's good and growing faith sustained her in the serious tragedies and difficulties which she has experienced in her life. You can build a strong faith too! God said that He will not leave us or forsake us (Hebrews 13:5). This is a faithful saying and promise. Fisher wrote A Faith Builder for Children because she feels deeply that it will help to build in youth a strong faith and trust in God. Life's storms are not always in the forecast. We need a solid foundation of faith so that we will not be thrown off base and become despondent, depressed and discouraged. We could just give up. This book should help to keep you grounded and on track in adversity and difficulty.
