Teague Hollingsworth crashed into my perfectly predictable life like a rocket, turning everything upside down and setting it ablaze. It was the world's worst first impression and one I'm not likely to forget . . . Until he shows up just when I need him. It turns out he's not at all the man I thought he was. He's kind to my dogs. He's protective of me. And he doesn't seem to mind the chaos. Slowly, he's winning my trust . . . and maybe my heart. But there's more to this man than I could've imagined. Shadows and secrets that threaten what I love the most. I've lost everything once. I won't do it again. Not even for him. USA Today bestselling author Grahame Claire introduces a firefighter who doesn't play by the rules in a story of secrets and suspense.

In the "brilliant novel" (The New York Times) V.S. Naipaul takes us deeply into the life of one man—an Indian who, uprooted by the bloody tides of Third World history, has come to live in an isolated town at the bend of a great river in a newly independent African nation. Naipaul gives us the most convincing and disturbing vision yet of what happens in a place caught between the dangerously alluring modern world and its own tenacious past and traditions. Before they have time to make their choice, war is declared and Vanya goes missing, along with Miri's fiancé. Miri braves the firing squad to go looking for them both. As the eclipse that will change history darkens skies across Russia, not only the safety of Miri's own family but the future of science itself hangs in the balance. Grounded in real
