Language-acquisition methods are based on the way in which children learn their native tongue, a "successful" approach in which listening comprehension precedes speaking which, in turn, precedes reading and writing. Elements based on unconscious assimilation or indirect attention—among them, Soviet hypnopedia, the Tomatis Method and Sophrology. Methods for unconscious assimilation—and, in particular, Suggestopedia, its variants, its adaptations and its background elements—are the subject of this book.

Part I of Suggestopedia and Language Acquisition deals with the theories behind Suggestology and Suggestopedia, in addition to the original suggestopedic language class which was developed in Bulgaria in the late 1960s and early 1970s. Part II discusses the various background and complementary elements to the original version of Suggestopedia: suggestion, yoga, baroque music and music therapy, the teacher as Pygmalion, nonverbal communication and brain research. The third section examines related methods based on unconscious assimilation: Soviet sleep-learning, Sophrology, the Tomatis Approach and the Suzuki Method for music learning. In the fourth and final section, versions and variants are discussed.

Albert Lamb, an ex-pupil and now the Summerhill librarian has edited the current edition of Summerhill. This book contains additional material taken from A.S. Neill's many books and other writings. The first section covers topics such as the school, how it works, problems and teacher-pupil interactions, with examples of Neill's own involvement with the children. The second section is Neill's autobiography - with accounts of his childhood in Scotland, his father's school, university, the influence of Homer Lane and Wilhelm Reich upon his life and the development of his teaching ideas which culminated in the foundation of Summerhill.

The Deliberate Dumbing Down of America

Springer Training Trances is about how to therapeutically communicate with the unconscious mind. The authors present their own unique integration of Ericksonian techniques, traditional models of hypnotherapy, and recent research in related areas. Numerous new patterns modeled from the work of Milton H. Erickson, M.D. are clearly explained and demonstrated. The use of trance in training design, to unconsciously install the skills being taught to the participants, is also covered. The book developed from transcripts of a four day workshop, and the design of the book parallels the design chosen for the training itself. Individual exercises or those done in groups of two or three are offered so that the reader may practice the techniques and learn the skills.

There are numerous "live" demonstrations, inductions, and double inductions which create for the reader a real "feel" of how hypnosis is done and which are also a rich source for linguistic analysis for the advanced reader. Written with insight and humor, this book's most unique twist is its use of multi-level communication and hypnotic language to create a "training trance" for the readers as they journey through the text. Some hypnotic references are obvious and explicit -- those which are not obvious will create enjoyable "ah-ha!" experiences for the reader as they are discovered.

How to Make ESP Work for You Harmony Designed as a core text for college level courses in percussion methods and pedagogy, Teaching Percussion is a comprehensive, up-to-date introduction to teaching methodology and performance techniques. Now updated, Teaching Percussion helps students and performers develop musical understanding and performance skills on some fifty percussion instruments. The Second Edition includes coverage of new developments in world music instruments and performance. In addition, Norman Weinberg, cofounder of the PAS World Percussion Network, has contributed a discussion of electronic percussion and new technology. The outstanding exercises, musical examples, photographs, illustrations, practical advice, and bibliographies - popular features in the first edition - have been retained and enhanced. Teaching Percussion, Second Edition, is an invaluable resource for students, faculty, and performers alike. We live in an era when the unprecedented

speed of change
means: The only
certainty is uncertainty; you can't predict what skills will be useful in ten years
time; in most professions knowledge
is doubling every two or three years; and no
job is forever--so being employable means
being flexible and
retraining regularly.
*Accelerated Learning
into the 21st Century*
contains a simple but proven plan that delivers the one key
skill that every working

person, every parent
and student must master, and every
teacher should teach:
it's learning how to learn. The theory of eight multiple intelligences (linguistic,
logical-mathematical,
visual-spatial,
kinesthetic, musical,
interpersonal,
intrapersonal, and
naturalist) developed by Howard Gardner at Harvard University
provides a foundation
for the six-step
MASTER-Mind system
to facilitate learning (an acronym for Mind,
Acquire, Search,
Trigger, Exhibit, and Review), and is enhanced by the latest findings on the value of emotion and memory
on the process of learning. Combined
with motivational
stories of success
applying these principles, and putting forth a clear vision of how the United States can dramatically improve the education system to remain competitive in the next century, Accelerated Learning into the 21st Century is a dynamic tool for self-improvement by individuals as diverse as schoolchildren and corporate executives. Psychic Discoveries Schirmer Krech (anthropology, Brown U.) treats such provocative issues as whether the Eden in which Native Americans are viewed as living prior to European contact was a feature of native environmentalism or simply low population density; indigenous use of fire; and the Indian role in near-extinctions of buffalo, deer, and beaver. He concludes that early Indians' culturally-mediated closeness with nature was not always congruent with modern conservation ideas, with implications for views of, and by, contemporary Indians. Annotation copyrighted by Book News, Inc., Portland, OR

 "The Einstein Factor liberates mental abilities you didn't know you had. I tried the techniques in the book and they paid off instantly. It's almost scary." —Duncan Maxwell Anderson, senior editor, Success. New research suggests that the superior achievements of famous thinkers may have been more the result of mental conditioning than genetic superiority. Now you can learn to condition your mind in the same way and improve your performance in virtually all aspects of mental ability, including memory, quickness, IQ, and learning capacity. Intelligence pioneer Dr. Win Wenger has identified the tools you need to reach greater levels of sharpness, insight, and overall intelligence. Using Wenger's Image Streaming technique, you learn to bypass inhibitions and access the hypernormal capabilities hidden in your own subconscious. Discover how you can:

- Improve your memory
- Read faster and learn more quickly
- Solve problems like a genius
- Score higher on tests
- Build self-esteem
- Induce a state of total creative absorption
- Access powerful subconscious insights through visualization
- Increase your intelligence

The Einstein Factor is your key to living an extraordinarily effective and creative life!

This book is the result of Dr Lozanov's 25 year research on the science of suggestion. Suggestologists organize and orchestrate unrealized factors associated with human consciousness that allow them to tap human reserve capacities for practical purposes. Most popular in the field of foreign language teaching and learning, suggestopedy (suggestology in pedagogy) accelerates language learning from 5 to 50 times over other conventional methods.

This book is the first to view the effects of development, aging, and practice on the control of human voluntary movement from a contemporary context. Emphasis is on the links between progress in basic motor control research and applied areas such as motor disorders and motor rehabilitation. Relevant to both professionals in the areas of motor control, movement disorders, and motor rehabilitation, and to students starting their careers in one of these actively developed areas.

Superlearning Penguin
Explains how to stay in control, deal with irrational behavior, and get along at work.
