"Avery

Dulles's

theological

career has

spanned one

of the most creative and

confusing
periods in the history of the church. With the goal of integrating
new information
from philosophy
and the
sciences into a deeper understanding of the world

and society,
the many
schools
pursued
independent
agendas, with
the net effect
of a loss of
coherence. It
is Fr. Dulles's
contention
that
schools have drifted so far apart that what seems false and dangerous to one school seems almost self-evident to another. Theologians lack a common language, common goals, and common norms." "Exploring the possibilities for greater consensus, The Craft of Theology illustrates how a "post-critical" theology can draw on the riches of Scripture and tradition as it reflects on the faith of the church in new contexts. Fr. Dulles discusses the freedom of theology within the university and sets forth principles for a fresh dialogue with philosophy, the sciences, and other Christian churches."--

Man up,

because Costanza Miriano is back in Marry Her and Die for Her. Guys, if you thought you were off the hook after Costanza's first book Marry Him and Be Submissive, you've got another thing coming. Now, she's here to challenge you and give it to you straight about the many ways in which you must die for the woman you love. (But don't worry...she has plenty of reminders for the women as well.) Inside, Miriano provides insight into what women want from men, and how husbands can "die" for them and their families every day. The Nature and Mission of Theology Liturgical Press

The ground-breaking treatment of the doctrine of the Trinity by one of the most important theologians of the century is here reprinted on the 30th anniversary of its original publication. In this treatise, Karl Rahner analyzes the place of the doctrine of the Trinity within Catholic theology and develops his own highly original and innovative reading of the doctrine, including his now-famous dictum.

Jesus the Christ A&C Black

Se nel linguaggio comune il profeta è colui che predice il futuro, una specie di «indovino» che anticipa gli avvenimenti, nella Bibbia egli è invece un uomo «catturato» dalla Parola di Dio e investito del compito di portarla al popolo. Per questo la sua vocazione - la chiamata profetica - è fondamentale per comprenderne la figura e la missione. E per incontrare quella pagina della Scrittura che può strappare anche la nostra vita «al luogo comune» per farla diventare un'opera d'arte nelle mani del Creatore. Nelle vocazioni profetiche - come quelle di Isaia, Geremia ed Ezechiele prese in esame in questo libro - ogni uomo può trovare la strada per ascoltare l'appello unico e inedito che Dio rivolge alla sua vita e che rende anche la Chiesa autenticamente profetica solo se viene rapita dalla parola di Dio.

Matteo Ricci (1552-1610), the first of the early Jesuit missionaries of the China mission, is widely considered the most outstanding cultural mediator of all time between China and the West. This engrossing and fluid book offers a thorough, knowledgeable biography of this fascinating and influential man, telling a deeply human and captivating story that still resonates today. Michela Fontana traces Ricci's travels in China in detail, providing a rich portrait of Ming China and the growing importance of cultural exchanges between China and the West. She shows how Ricci incorporated his ideas of "cultural accommodation" into both

his life and his writings aimed at the Chinese elite. Her biography is the first to highlight Ricci's immensely important scientific work and that of key Christian converts, such as Xu Guangqi, who translated Euclid's Elements together with Ricci. Exploring the history of science in China and the West as well as their dramatically different cultural attitudes toward	religious and philosophical issues, Michela Fontana introduces not only Ricci's life but the first significant encounter between Western and Chinese civilizations. The Craft of Theology Tan Books 2020 Association of Catholic Publishers third place award in theology 2020 Catholic Press Association third place award in Pope Francis books The dangerous tendency to	reduce theological positions to political ones has always fueled divisions in the Church, and it plagues debates surrounding Pope Francis's teaching today. his theology of mission—within important theological conversations rarely heard in the US Catholic Church. Its contributors demonstrate decisively that Pope Francis's magisterium is the fruit of a profound and distinctive, yet deeply Catholic, intellectual engagement with the theological and ecclesial traditions of the Church.  The Nature and Mission of Theology
 As Cardinal, Joseph Ratzinger wrote this book in response to the dialogue going on today concerning theology and the clarification of its methods, its mission and its limits which he thinks has become urgent. Ratzinger states: "To do theology-as the Magisterium understands theology-it is not sufficient merely to calculate how much religion can reasonably be expected of man and to utilize bits and pieces of the Christian tradition accordingly. Theology is born when the arbitrary

judgment of reason encounters a limit, in that we discover something which we have not excogitated ourselves but which has been revealed to us. For this reason, not every religious theory has the right to label itself as Christian or Catholic theology simply because it wishes to do so; whoever would lay claim to this title is obligated to accept as meaningful the prior given	which goes along with it. The Sun of My Will. Luisa Piccarreta Rowman &amp; Littlefield Publishers Here at last is a reissue of Kasper's major work with a brilliant new introduction surveying recent developments in Christology. Kasper assesses the Christological enterprise in the Church from the earliest down to the most recent times which can be recommended without hesitation to	teacher and serious student. The book also provides a solid theological basis for preaching. This may also be described as a work of Christian serenity, but one which is not indifferent to current problems. It is the fruit of the deep peace which all men can gain from contemplation of Jesus the Christ. As Karl Rahner has said - this book is 'modern' in the very best sense of the word.
