Shenandoah Nights National Geographic Books

In this emotional billionaire romance, a young woman is saved from a dangerous situation by a mysterious Scottish widower. After losing his wife sixteen years ago, Drake Mac Gilleain threw himself into his work. Now he's next in line to take control of his uncle's New York brokerage firm. But he never forgot his wife. Every year on their anniversary, he returns to the restaurant where they met. And this year, he spots her again! Maggie McCrae is the spitting image of Drake's lost wife. Refusing to believe it's a mere coincidence, he decides to follow her. And when he sees her and her boyfriend get into an argument that turns violent, he's there to stop the assault. A violinist for the New York Philharmonic, Maggie is determined to escape her boyfriend's abusive grip. Staying with Drake while she sorts herself out, she discovers an undeniable attraction to her mysterious protector. But as they grow closer, can he reveal the truth of why he was there when she needed him?

 Botanical encounters in the rainforest: trees that walk, a leaf as big as an awning, a plant that dances. This Atlas invites the reader to tour the farthest reaches of the rainforest in search of exotic—poetic—plant life. Guided in these botanical encounters by Francis Hallé, who has spent forty years in pursuit of the strange and beautiful plant specimens of the rainforest, the reader discovers a plant with just one solitary, monumental leaf; an invasive hyacinth; a tree that walks; a parasitic laurel; and a dancing vine. Further explorations reveal the Rafflesia arnoldii, the biggest flower in the world, with a crown of stamens and pistils the color of rotten meat that exude the stench of garbage in the summer sun; underground trees with leaves that form a carpet on the ground above them; and the biggest tree in Africa, which can reach seventy meters (more than 200 feet) in height, with a four-meter (about 13 feet) diameter. Hallé's drawings, many in color, provide a witty accompaniment. Like any good tour guide, Hallé tells stories to illustrate his facts. Readers learn about, among other things, Queen Victoria's rubber tree; legends of the moabi tree (for example, that powder from the bark confers invisibility); a flower that absorbs energy from a tree; plants that imitate other plants; a tree that rains; and a fern that clones itself. Hallé's drawings represent an investment in time that returns a dividend of wonder more satisfying than the ephemeral thrill afforded by the photograph. The Atlas of Poetic Botany allows us to be amazed by forms of life that seem as strange as visitors from another planet.

The Proud Wife Richmond Hill, Ont. : Simon & Schuster of Canada

If he wanted a marriage of convenience, it would be at her convenience! R. J. Maitland, President of Maitland Maternity, was forced to do some major damage control. The media circus surrounding allegations that he had fathered an abandoned child had left his reputation in tatters and the clinic in jeopardy. Dana Dillinger had been R.J.'s right hand for years—loyal, dependable...and hopelessly, secretly in love with him. When he suggested that marriage was the best way to salvage the situation and prove he wasn't the playboy the press had labeled him, Dana accepted his "proposal." With one exception... R.J. wanted a marriage in name only—no sex, just marriage. Dana wanted all the marital rights of a bride—including and especially sex—or the deal was off. Between a rock and a hard place, R.J. agreed, not knowing what he'd just gotten himself into!

In this book Ralph Schoolcraft explores the extraordinary career of the modern French author, film director, and diplomat—a romantic and tragic figure whose fictions extended well beyond his books. Born Roman Kacew, he overcame an impoverished boyhood to become a French Resistance hero and win the coveted Goncourt Prize under the pseudonym—and largely invented persona—Romain Gary. Although he published such acclaimed works as The Roots of Heaven and Promise at Dawn, the Gaullist traditions that he defended in the world of French letters fell from favor, and his critical fortunes suffered at the hands of a hostile press. Schoolcraft details Gary's frustrated struggle to evolve as a writer in the eye of a public that now considered him a known quantity. Identifying the daring strategies used by this mysterious character as he undertook an elaborate scheme to reach a new readership, Schoolcraft offers new insight into the dynamics of authorship and fame within the French literary institutions. In the early 1970s Gary made his departure from the conservative literary establishment, publishing works that boasted a quirky, elliptical style under a variety of pseudonymous personae, the most successful of which was that of an Algerian immigrant by the name of Emile Ajar. Moving behind the mask of his new creation, Gary was able to win critical and popular acclaim and a second Goncourt in 1975. But as Schoolcraft suggests, Gary may have "sold his shadow"—that is, lost his authorial persona—by marketing himself too effectively. Going so far as to recruit a cousin to stand in as the public face of this phantom author, Gary kept the secret of his true authorship until his violent death in 1980 from a self-inflicted gunshot wound. The press reacted with resentment over the scheme, and he was shunned into the ranks of literary oddities. Schoolcraft draws from archives of the several thousand documents related to Gary housed at the French publishing firms of Gallimard and Mercure de France, as well as the Butler Library at Columbia University. Exploring the depths of a story that has long remained shrouded in mystery, Romain Gary: The Man Who Sold His Shadow is as much a fascinating biographical sketch as it is a thought-provoking reflection on the assumptions made about identities in the public sphere.

The Mothershed Case The Song of the Greys

The baby surprise... Diana Rawlins has turned up at the hospital with amnesia and a baby in her arms! She doesn't remember how either of them happened. Her husband, Cal, is determined to get to the bottom of the mystery—especially since one of the things his wife doesn't remember is being married to him! Diana only seems to care about one thing—the baby Cal knows can't possibly be hers. But he isn't going to give Diana up without a fight. If the baby is the key to her heart, he'll move heaven and earth to ensure that his new family can stay together. Love Undercover Their mission was marriage!

Airman, war hero, immigrant, law student, diplomat, novelist and celebrity spouse, Romain Gary had several lives thrust upon him by the history of the twentieth century, but he also aspired to lead many more. He wrote more than two dozen books and a score of short stories under several different names in two languages, English and French, neither of which was his mother tongue. Gary had a gift for narrative that endeared him to ordinary readers, but won him little respect among critics far more intellectual than he could ever be. His varied and entertaining writing career tells a different story about the making of modern literary culture from the one we are accustomed to hearing. Born Roman Kacew in Vilna (now Lithuania) in 1914 and raised by only his mother after his father left them, Gary rose to become French Consul General in Los Angeles and the only man ever to win the Goncourt Prize twice. This biography follows the many threads that lead from Gary's wartime adventures and early literary career to his years in Hollywood and his marriage to the actress Jean Seberg. It illuminates his works in all their incarnations, and culminates in the tale of his most brilliant deception: the fabrication of a complex identity for his most successful nom de plume, Émile

Ajar. In his new portrait of Gary, David Bellos brings biographical research together with literary and cultural analysis to make sense of the many lives of Romain Gary - a hero fit for our times, as well as his own.

Could this all be a bad dream? How was she to know? Rebecca had far more questions than answers. Tisbury, Massachusetts, Martha's Vineyard The last thing sixth-grade teacher Rebecca O'Neill wants to do during the final week of her summer break is chaperone twenty-five kids on a six-night, seven-day trip aboard the schooner Shenandoah. But after a desperate phone call from the school principal, she doesn't have a choice. Worse, the ship is rumored to be "haunted." Five years ago, during the Holmes Hole student cruise, teacher Melissa Smith complained about hearing voices and seeing visions, then disappeared without a trace—from the very same cabin where Rebecca will be staying. Everything seems normal on Sunday as Rebecca boards the impressive Shenandoah. But as she sits in Cabin 8, she hears hushed voices that don't sound like they're from this century. Mike, a crewmember, insists he believes the crazy Island story that Melissa time-traveled to Colonial Boston. His eerie interest in constantly tracking Rebecca's whereabouts rattles her nerves. Her first night onboard, Rebecca drifts off to sleep...and wakes the following morning with memories of a secretive conversation about a battle with Britain. Monday night Rebecca crawls into her bunk after an adventurous day of sailing, swimming, and overseeing students. She's startled awake when a man grabs her and yells, "Stowaway " Dragged in front of Captain Benjamin Reed, she looks up into the most gorgeous brown eyes she's ever seen.... A Vineyard Romance. Une épopée mythologique De 521 à 436 avant J-→C. à Babylone, en Grèce et à Madagascar. Début du XVIème siècle à Madagascar, à Hispaniola, à Cuba et à Mexico-Tenochtitlan. Tandis que Darius, puis son fils Xerxès sont vaincus par les Grecs lors des Guerres Médiques, le premier à Marathon, le second à Salamine puis à Platées, la vie de Castor et Pollux est bouleversée par la révélation d'un terrible secret. C'est alors que les événements semblent se précipiter jusqu'au drame final. Un tremblement de terre en Laconie, doublé d'un soulèvement des Messéniens contre le joug de Sparte, déclenchent la Troisième Guerre de Messénie. Au moment où tout paraît perdu, Pollux, refusant d'accepter l'inéluctable, en appelle à Zeus dont l'intervention divine propulsera nos deux héros en 1500, à l'époque des grands voyages de découvertes, d'abord sur l'île de Madagascar, puis sur l'île de Cuba, à Hispaniola et enfin à Mexico-Tenochtitlan, où va se jouer l'immortalité de Castor et Pollux. Les Dioscures, héros d'un récit original où se mêlent Histoire, mythologie et fantastique ! EXTRAIT Zeus chemine au hasard des nuées vallonnées qui recouvrent Gaïa de leur manteau laiteux. Il s'interroge en vain : que trame donc Héra ? Cela fait si longtemps qu'elle ne lui a fait l'aumône d'une scène ! Elle qui, d'habitude, l'épie et le harcèle sans cesse, l'abreuvant d'injures et de reproches pour un simple regard sur une autre déesse - ou pire, une mortelle ! - la voilà qui soudain se montre plus distante, et semble indifférente à ses multiples frasques. Loin de le rassurer, cette étrange attitude l'inquiète au plus haut point et, contre toute attente, lui ôte - ô paradoxe ! - toute envie d'adultère. Il la connaît trop bien pour ne pas soupçonner quelque piège pervers ! Plus il y songe et plus il appréhende de terribles représailles. Plongé dans ses pensées, Zeus traverse l'Olympe et, sans s'en rendre compte, a bientôt rejoint la Porte de l'Équinoxe. Repoussant les battants de bronze des deux mains, il s'arrête et demeure un instant immobile, contemplant le plus beau fleuron de son royaume. L'éclatant flamboiement de la Voûte Céleste s'étale devant lui dans toute sa splendeur, recouvrant l'Univers de son châte étoilé. À PROPOS DE L'AUTEUR Liliane Cesari Ferrero est née à Marseille en 1954. De son cursus littéraire et latiniste naît sa passion pour l'Antiquité et l'Histoire. En 2008 et 2009, elle obtient le 3ème prix régional du concours « Déclarezvous en toutes lettres », puis le 1er prix régional en 2010. Thermodynamics: Fundamentals and Applications for Chemical Engineers explores the concepts and properties of thermodynamics and illustrates how they can be applied to solve practical problems. The book introduces the fundamentals of thermodynamics for multi-phase, multi-component systems, providing a framework for dealing with problems in chemical engineering including mixing, compressing, and distilling fluids. The first eight chapters of Thermodynamics focus on single-component thermodynamics, introducing important concepts that will be referenced throughout subsequent chapters. Later chapters introduce modeling for multi-component systems. Topics covered include: properties as a function of state variables; first and second law of thermodynamics; power cycles, combustion, refrigeration cycles, and heat pumps; equilibrium phase relationships; correlations and calculations of vapor-liquid equilibrium data; elementary theories of solutions; and the efficiency of multicomponent separation and reaction processes. The Second Law of Thermodynamics, availability concepts, and process efficiency receive extensive coverage. The clear, well-organized sequence of the chapters helps students successfully learn and retain information. Each of the fifteen chapters includes updated sample problems that underline key principles and problem-solving steps. The book has numerous appendixes for quick reference on everything from conversion factors to Francis constants, and from properties of pure substances to thermodynamics tables and Diagrams. Thermodynamics can be used by chemical, petroleum, and mechanical engineering departments in introductory and intermediate courses on engineering thermodynamics and thermodynamics fundamentals. Born and raised in Chile, Miguel T. Fleischer earned his M.S. and Ph.D. in chemical engineering from the University of Houston where he is an adjunct professor and the undergraduate program director of the Chemical and Biomolecular Engineering Department. Dr. Fleischer worked at Royal Dutch Shell for more than 26 years in research and development, manufacturing, finance, and management. He began teaching when he was an undergraduate student in Chile where he developed a program sponsored by Universidad Católica de Chile to prepare high school students for college. He was the co-owner and CEO of Fleischer International Trading, a private enterprise that imported and distributed wines from all over the world for 13 years. He continued teaching while he was a graduate student at the University of Houston. He has received the Outstanding Lecturer award of the Cullen College of Engineering four times, the University's Teaching Excellence Award, the Cullen College of Engineering's Career Teaching Award, and the Cullen College of Engineering's Distinguished Engineering Alumni Award.

Newly updated and backed by decades of research, this classic guide will equip leaders and team members alike to unleash the power of teamwork. Never before in the history of the workplace has the concept of teamwork been more important to the functioning of successful organizations. Ken Blanchard, bestselling coauthor of Raving Fans, The One Minute Manager® and Gung Ho!, teams up with Donald Carew and Eunice Parisi-Carew to explain how all groups move through four stages of development on their way to becoming high performing teams—orientation, dissatisfaction, integration and production. The authors then show how a manager can help any group become effective quickly and with a minimum of stress.
